APPLICATION/PROOF OF IDENTITY: If you are making an application for an Indiana driver license, permit or identification card, you will be required to provide proof of your identity.

The Bureau of Motor Vehicles has joined many other states in the country in revising its driver license policy to enhance the security of our driver license system. This policy requires more documentation and is intended to minimize the occurrence of identity fraud.

Driver licenses are accepted all over the country as an indicator of a person's identity. It is very important that we protect a person's identity by making our system as secure as possible.

To preserve the integrity of the driver license for identification purposes, the BMV has established guidelines of acceptable forms of proof of identity, which includes name, date of birth, Indiana residency and social security number. Please contact your local license branch for a current acceptable ID list or logon to <http://www.bmvexpress.IN.gov>.

LICENSE AND PERMIT TYPES AND EXTENT OF DRIVING PRIVILEGES: The BMV issues a number of different types of drivers licenses. For most people a standard operator license is all they need. There are also special permits issued to individuals who are in the process of learning to drive. The materials in this section detail the various licenses and permits issued by the BMV, the eligibility requirements for each license or permit, and the extent of driving privileges authorized for each license or permit.

1. Driver Education Learner Permit:

- a. Purpose: The driver education learner permit is a limited learner permit issued, at the age of 15, for the sole purpose of allowing a student driver to enroll in a BMV-approved driver education course.
